The Cultural Secrets of Anna Chai

In a rare speaking appearance, Anna Chai will talk to DVOS on July 10th.

Known for her superior culture, this is a unique opportunity to hear the techniques and practices of one of the best orchid growers in the country.

Anna Chai has been growing orchids for thirty years. She is now a retired AOS judge.

She has been awarded by the AOS for one hundred and six of her orchids. She was awarded the Butterworth prize, the Fred Hillerman prize, and received two Show Trophies. She has participated in six World Orchid Conferences as an international judge. She is still growing around six hundred orchids in her back yard.
